

School of Education Collaborate Learning Studio
Located in 3212 Centennial (Mike Skemp)

As part of UW-La Crosse's commitment to supporting student success through technology, the School of Education has implemented a Collaborative Learning Studio.

This space provides UWL with the ability to train the teachers of tomorrow with state-of-the art tools. The studio brings educators together to transform the educational process, innovate with technology, and engage students.