

Supervision of Student Teaching

CI-695

Now offered Fall and Spring Semesters

This 3-credit graduate course is designed to prepare in-service teachers to serve as a cooperating teacher for teacher candidates in field / practicum and student teaching placements.

- Offered entirely online
- No cost to participants*
- 14 modules; one per week
- Class starts week of 9/6/22

Learn about these and other topics

- roles & responsibilities of all parties
- professional boundaries & relationships
- student teaching & field expectations
- communication & resolving conflicts
- supporting students with edTPA
- social media & responsible use of technology

For more details, contact the instructor:

Tim Nielsen | tnielsen@uwlax.edu

*UW-La Crosse offers a course fee waiver when the CI-695 student signs an agreement indicating their willingness to serve as a cooperating teacher for pre-student teachers (field students) or student teachers in the future. Interested CI 695 students must be admitted as a Special Non-Degree student by Tuesday, 8/30/22 and meet the course prerequisites: a baccalaureate degree, teacher certification and PK-12 teaching experience.

Registration opens in JULY 2022 and space is limited to 20 participants.

Enrollment information can be found on the UWL website at:

<https://www.uwlax.edu/admissions/apply/special-non-degree-studenths-special/>

