

UWL Workload Credit Policy - Teacher Candidate Supervision in Undergraduate Teacher Education Programs

(This policy applies to all UWL undergraduate teacher education programs.)

(3/2017)

Student Teaching Supervision

Student Teaching Supervision Workload Policy:

1. Workload Credit is assigned as indicated in Table 1. Workload assignments or credit adjustments within this policy are approved at the Department Chair/College Dean level. Workload assignment adjustments that are exceptions to this policy must be approved by the SoE Dean in consultation with the College Dean (if applicable).
2. Distance and number of sites: If all student teachers are placed within Tier 1 sites (see Figure 1 and Appendix 1), then the higher number of Student Teachers (ST) for a given workload credit should be allocated unless the sites are far apart. Likewise, if any student teachers are placed within Tier 3 sites (see Figure 1 and Appendix 1), then the lowest number of ST for a given workload credit should be allocated. Otherwise, consideration should be given to multiple sites and total distance to those sites. Workload credit should be assigned to faculty in these situations based on consultation with the SoE Dean and the College Dean (if applicable).
3. Remediation/action plans and other dispositional factors: Additional workload credit may be considered (in consultation with the SoE Dean and the College Dean (if applicable)) for faculty who are supervising ST with significant dispositional issues and/or Teacher Candidate Progress Review (TCPR) action plans.
4. Banking Policy: For low volume programs with few teacher candidates (TCs) per semester or quarter, the same workload formula as in Table 1 applies, but faculty may accumulate the number of assigned student-semester or student-quarters over a number of semesters. (For example, a faculty member may supervise one student teacher per semester in two different semesters and then earn a 1-credit reassignment the following semester.) Banking policies should be approved by the SoE Dean in consultation with the College Dean (if applicable). It is presumed that faculty will use their banked teaching assignment within one academic year.

Table 1: Student Teacher Supervision Workload Formula

1 credit	2-3 student-semester = 4-6 student-quarters
2 credits	4-5 student-semester = 7-9 student-quarters
3 credits	6-7 student-semester = 10-14 student-quarters

Figure 1: Field and Student Teaching placement site locations. Sites are grouped into tiers based on the distance from UWL. A complete list of schools and distances is given in Appendix 1.

Tier 1: < 14 mi (yellow/orange); Tier 2: < 28 mi (green); Tier 3: > 28 mi (purple).

Process for assigning student teacher supervision workload:

The timeline is indexed relative to the date of student teacher applications and refers to a cohort who has applied in the same semester (see Table 2).

1. Within 30 days of the Student Teacher Application deadline, the Office of Field Experience (OFE) sends initial estimate of the anticipated number of student teachers (ST) to department Chairs (~10 months in advance of the student teaching semester).
2. The Department Chair in consultation with the SoE affiliated faculty/IAS in their department assigns the number of ST workload credits using the approved workload policy (see Table 1). The ST workload credit assignment for each SoE affiliated faculty member should be communicated to OFE using the ST supervision assignment form.
3. OFE assigns specific ST to faculty taking into account their preferences (location, student, number of sites) to the extent possible. ST placements should be completed no less than 30 days in advance of Student Teacher Orientation each semester if at all possible (recognizing that there may be occasional last minute changes).
4. Within 30 days of Student Teacher Orientation, OFE sends to the Department Chair the updated list of ST to be supervised and their placement sites. Chairs work with faculty to adjust ST supervision workload credits if necessary, taking into account the the factors described in the policy above. Any changes to the initial workload credit assignments should be communicated to OFE using a revised ST supervision assignment form. Exceptions to the workload policy must be approved by the the SoE Dean in consultation with the College Dean (if applicable).

Table 2: Timeline and Process for Assigning Student Teacher Supervision Workload
Example shown with ST in Fall 2017 or Spring 2018

Student Teaching in Fall	Student Teaching in Spring	Action
Oct. - 2016 (10 months in advance of ST)	Mar. - 2017 (10 months in advance of ST)	Deadline for TC's to apply for Student Teaching
Nov. - 2016 (9 months in advance of ST)	Apr. - 2017 (9 months in advance of ST)	OFE sends initial estimates of ST to Chairs
Feb. - 2017 (6 months in advance of ST)	Oct. - 2017 (4 months in advance of ST)	ST semester schedules due - Chairs assign initial workload credits based on consultation with SOE affiliated faculty and estimates of ST numbers
May - 2017 (3 months in advance of ST)	Nov/Dec. - 2017 (2 months in advance of ST)	OFE completes ST placements; OFE communicates ST placements to Chairs
May/June - 2017 (2-3 months in advance of ST)	Dec. - 2017 (1 month in advance of ST)	Chairs consult with SOE affiliated faculty and adjust workload if necessary within Workload Policy
June - 2017 (2 months in advance of ST)	Early Jan. - 2018 (< 1 month in advance of ST)	Justifications for workload allocation outside of Workload Policy must be approved by the SoE Dean in consultation with the College Dean (if applicable) in advance of Student Teacher Orientation Day
Sept. - 2017 (ST begins)	Jan. - 2018 (ST begins)	Student Teaching semester begins

Field Student Supervision

Workload Credit is assigned as follows (see Table 3 for examples):

1. Lecture hours reflected in WINGS/CIM are directly credited to the faculty of record for a given field course. This credit load is defined by the program and includes workload related to embedded signature assessments.
2. Lab hours reflected in WINGS/CIM represent the “field time” component and are directly credited to the assigned supervisor for a given field course (this is often the same faculty member as in A, but not always). This credit load is defined by the program, and should align with SoE expectations.
3. Faculty members that are maintaining and growing PDS (Professional Development School) sites are given an additional workload credit for the field experience. The SoE Dean has final approval in designating PDS workload credit.
4. Field courses have varying enrollments and workload credit should reflect this. Workload credit is assigned according to the following scale as reflected in the table below:
 - a. <10 students = Low volume (Volume Credit = 0)
 - b. 10-17 students = Full volume (Volume Credit = 1)
 - c. >17 students = High volume¹ (Volume Credit = 2)
5. Occasionally, students in a given Field section are placed at multiple sites and/or at sites far from UWL (see Figure 1). An additional workload credit may be assigned to faculty in these situations based on consultation with the the SoE Dean and the College Dean (if applicable).
6. Any portfolio/edTPA review responsibilities that may be associated with a Field course are contained within the credits for the course; each program is responsible for articulating whether these responsibilities are associated with the lecture or lab component. For most Field courses, the instructor for the lecture and lab components is the same person so identifying the aligned component is not relevant to workload allocation.
7. Banking policy for cases where the supervisor is not the course instructor but is a UWL faculty member should follow the banking policy guidelines for Student Teaching above.

¹ High volume credit is awarded in consultation with the SoE Dean and the College Dean (if applicable).

Table 3: Example Workload Credit Assignment Configurations for SoE Field Courses

* STEP Teaching and Learning courses include BIO/CHM/PHY 469, MTH 421, ENG 405, or
HIS/POL/GEO/SOC/PSY/ECO 408

 This is a shortened Field course (7 week/35 hours) and the instructor does not do the supervision. Thus the instructor does not get a volume credit for this assignment.
