LEARNING in Retirement NEWSLETTER

Welcome to our summer Learning in Retirement newsletter! Once again the Curriculum Committee has organized a series of lectures/discussions for opportunities in the upcoming months. You do need to register in advance for the classes and you are encouraged to do so soon! Many fill up quickly or have limited class size.

Frank Lloyd Wright in Iowa

On June 22 a trip to Mason City, Iowa is planned to see some unique Wright architecture. A tour of the Stockman House, a beautifully restored Prairie school house, is on the route. You will learn about Frank Lloyd Wright in the nearby Interpretive Center. Also included is a drive through a nearby neighborhood of period Prairie School homes. Lunch is at a local favorite, Pasta Bella. After lunch we will visit the only existing Wright hotel—the historic Park Inn—which has been restored to life as a working hotel.

Thursday, June 22 | 7:15 a.m.–5:30 p.m.

Pick up at The U on campus and then to Mason City, Iowa

$99, LIR members | $119, Non-LIR members

Ethics in Society

Rick Kyte

This course will examine recent trends in societal ethics with a focus on government and professional ethics. We will look at issues of honesty, transparencies, trust, conflicts of interest and social capital.

Monday, June 26 | 9:45–11:45 a.m.

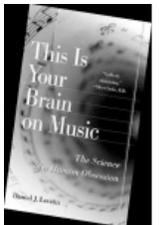

355 Morris Hall, UW-La Crosse

$15, LIR members | $25, Non-LIR members

This is Your Brain On Music

Presented by Neale Koenig

This will be an interactive class with a presentation on how the various components of music are processed by the different sections of the brain. He recommends the book “This Is Your Brain on Music” by Daniel J. Levitan.

Monday, July 10 | 10 a.m.–noon

The U, UW-La Crosse

$15, LIR members | $25, Non-members

Shakespeare in Winona

On July 28 we will travel to Winona, MN. Our day in Winona will begin at the beautiful Minnesota Marine Art Museum. In addition to the memorable Hudson River School landscapes and Impressionist masterpieces, you’ll experience an exhibit of National Geographic photos of the Mississippi River. An enjoyable lunch is planned at the Jefferson Pub followed by a viewing of the Great River Shakespeare Festival’s production of Richard III. Richard is a power hungry man who will do anything to gain the throne of England. He is a wicked man but he can also be wickedly funny.

Friday, July 28 | 8:30 a.m.–5 p.m.

Pick up at The U on campus and then to Winona, MN

$95, LIR members | $115, Non-LIR members
