

International & Global Studies Checklist

The International & Global Studies program at UWL is designed to provide you with a quality interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary education that encourages you to think beyond boundaries and examine a broad array of cultural, economic, environmental, geographic, historical, natural, political and social interactions and relationships that shape our world.

The International & Global Studies program requires courses totaling 18 credits, however, it is important to keep in mind that a maximum of 6 credits may overlap with General Education, your major, and/or your minor. Indeed, you are strongly encouraged to think about this minor as a way to explore the interactions and relationships the shape our world from perspectives that differ from your major or minor.
