 - i. How many have been affected by phishing attack. I want to be upfront and tell you why we are getting them all. Our job is to keep you safe secure and informed. I'm the guy who writes the IT notifications and I want you to know how significant it is to give your credentials. I want you to know we monitor this every week. We communicate it on Facebook to help you with technology things that come up. On the Facebook page you want to upgrade to IOS11. It's more than just a phishing attack if you have a question I will give you an example on the site. Mail chimp lets me how many people read the emails and what day and what time. Generally, 6-10 times is the average. Faculty read 60% of our emails, students read 53% highest rate in the UW system. What I track is a phishing alert and the biggest readers are international students and we look at where they are from. There's an example if you look at it. 38% of freshman clicked on that link. 35% sophomores clicked on this link and we need to do better. We target specific groups based on that. If you see something like I will send, if you see this image you know it's from me. There is a trick if it is a real email or not, but you can't do it on your phone. There's where I educate people- the links that were correct, they are trying to get you to put your credentials in. if you are not sure don't click, go back to your room and check on your computer. Roll over it without clicking and you will know. People that have clicked and given their credential- 1,000. Microsoft sees this and cuts your access off. They will cut you out and quarantine. D21 wings everything you don't exist- resets password and can maybe get you from your secondary email account. Manual process to reset and when you click on these links it starts spamming and you get all these emails. If I click on one link and give my credentials- will spur hundreds of thousands of emails. Spamming has monetary value. If you click on it change and contact us immanently. We are trying to research where this is coming from. we also track when you are on your email and we know when we are on your computer and lets us know when to help you. What can you do- workshops to understand importance, knowledge base to get your information back. Go wo Whitney and eagle. How can we reach each of you to not get your phones to click

1. "I got this email from you guys named Sam and I went through this and gave my email, please fix this because its causing me a lot of problems
- ii. be careful where you click. Not sure don't click, read emails from us, check clutter and junk, if you click your phishing email and if you have questions call or email me. Communicate, support you, try new tools recruiting, education on what is happening on campus
 1. why is this worse that other years?
 - a. It is more sophisticated, we knew last year fall of 2017 was going to be worse, time of the year, academic areas are the most vulnerable and it's a matter of more sophisticated and they are going after universities
 2. you are trying to trace where these emails are coming from, so he clicked on it and everything that was sent out was from his email- so how difficult is it
 - a. very im not the NSA- it could be someone on campus or anywhere around the world, so be our eyes and ears and incorporating in in freshman registration.
 3. On the website would it be possible to make it easier to find out and what to do
 - a. Unfortunately, the group changed the website so it's not functionable, but we have a Facebook presence
 4. I get emails constantly and a lot of student ignore it and students pay attention to the chancellors so have him send something out
 - a. We've tried that and he's just sent it back to us and were going to try some other things.
 5. I work with international students have you considered going to their orientation

I had a meeting with Bob two days ago and talked about things that were issues for SA which was menstrual hygiene products in the bathrooms and making sure there were enough and to get the prices down. And after talking to him Bob is convinced that we do need this and ordered new dispensing machines for the campus and ill post it on the Facebook page. It will be in academic building and resident's halls in the general bathrooms and in the U. We are putting baskets out and geting machines. 30,000 dollars of machines will be provided for free – machines and baskets. Machines for tampons and pads will be here in the next couple weeks. Still producing in the vending machines outside so looking forward to that and making sure it is good quality stuff and filled. From there for the position of inclusivity director we are interviewing tomorrow, Mon, Tues., Wed and diversity org has to conduct an interview and will have that the week after that and you guys have to decide. Other than that the seg fee committee meeting is on Friday so let me know your thoughts asap. Local affairs- housing fair we do every year from Rent College Pads only and promotes landlords and we are trying to get away from that and what to insure as many landlords as possible. Only half of the landlords at best can show up because they sign a contract to go and we are hosing our own event separately and any landlord can participate to give as many options as possible. Me Lauren and Weston will work with Stephan to have proposals on bystander intervention. If you are interested let me know we are trying to show there is a push from students to get this.
