

When we moved the Dining outside to the tents, it was a university decision, which was made to combat our high positive numbers. The university felt that the best way to reduce contact and minimize the spread of COVID-19, according to the CDC guidelines, was to use the tents. The move to the corridor of Whitney Center was step one in our return to our normal program. The early winter weather made this move more problematic.

We are moving back into the Whitney Center Main Dining Room, effective for breakfast on Wednesday October 28. In addition, we will be opening the Mondo's Sub Shoppe, on that day. The hours will be:

The return to the Whitney Center Main Dining Room will aid in our ability to serve more people, faster, with the appropriate menu options. We will monitor lines this weekend to ensure that they move appropriately.

Due to the dining issues this semester, the university will provide every student on a Dining Plan with six (6) Block Meals, at no cost to the student, which can be used at other Dining locations on campus. This includes purchases at Einstein's, Erbert & Gerbert's, and The Cellar in Cartwright Center. On weekends, students can use their Blocks to utilize the mobile ordering app, BOOST, to order and pick up sandwiches from Erbert and Gerbert's. These Block Meals will be available to use on Friday, October 30, 2020 and will expire 12/23/20. Refer to Dine On Campus for BOOST app download information: (<https://dineoncampus.com/uwlacrosse/boost-mobile-ordering-now-available>).

New menus for items served in the All Access Dining Rooms, have been requested today. Additional specials have been requested so that students are receiving the food that they may have been missing during the previous weeks. Our team will develop a reservations system for tables at Whitney Center which will allow for the return of seating in the Main Dining Room.

These changes may not address all the concerns about Dining Services at UW-La Crosse. Please continue to provide feedback, and we will continue to provide updates on the Dining Plan.

Thank you
