

A new feature for PRO@UWL is the ability for people other than instructors to issue ad hoc alerts in the system. Simply search for a student, and on the right hand side of the student's page you'll see "Issue an Alert" under "Current Alerts". Keep in mind this is for academic concerns only – for non-academic concerns, please see student life.

The screenshot displays the PRO@UWL system interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a dropdown menu set to "Fall 2019", a search icon, a help icon, and a user profile icon. Below the navigation bar is the UWL UW-LA CROSSE logo. The main content area is divided into two sections. On the left, there is a "Current Alerts" panel with a yellow circle containing the number "0". Below the header, it says "I want to..." followed by a list of actions: "Message Student", "Add a Reminder to this Student", "Report on Appointment", "Create Request for Appointment", "Schedule an Appointment", "Add to Watch List", and "Issue an Alert". On the right, there is a "MANAGE CASE" modal window. The "Student" field is filled with a name that has been redacted with black scribbles. The "Reason(s)" field contains the text "Issue a case". The "Outcome" field is a dropdown menu with "Choose" selected. The "Comment" field is another dropdown menu with "Choose" selected. Below these fields is a large text input area. At the bottom of the modal, there are two buttons: "Go Back" and "Submit". Hand-drawn black arrows point from the text in the first block to the "Issue an Alert" option in the left panel and the "MANAGE CASE" modal on the right.
