

The Eagle Advantage Syllabus Statement*

This is a general syllabus statement that illustrates how course content connects to The Eagle Advantage career readiness competencies. You may use this text verbatim, or tailor it as you see fit for your specific course.

The Eagle Advantage

By attending UWL, you are developing the Eagle Advantage! In support of our campus mission statement “in which the entire university community is fully engaged in supporting student success,” this tool was developed to help students recognize the competencies they’re developing in and out of the classroom, learn how to articulate them to others, and apply them as they “take their place in a constantly changing world community.”

The skills you will gain through this course are important to future employers. While you may find opportunities during the semester to grow in all 8 competency areas, the learning outcomes of this course most closely relate to the following competencies:

1. Insert whichever competencies fit your class here. Again, feel free to use the definitions provided, or shorten/expand as you see fit: www.uwlax.edu/info/eagle-advantage

You can learn more about the competencies on the Eagle Advantage homepage. For advice on communicating these skills to future internship sites, employers, and/or graduate and professional schools, schedule a meeting with your career advisor in the Academic Advising Center & Career Services.
