UW System has made two changes to Canvas based on instructors' requests and experiences.

Change 1: You will be able to add Discussions and People to your course navigation menus. Adding Discussions ensures that students see discussion alerts on their Dashboard, and adding People allows students to self-enroll in groups. Attached is a step-by-step description of how to add Discussions to your course navigation menu.

Change 2: You will be able to remove Syllabus and Collaborations. Both of these menu items are useful in many courses, but not all. The Syllabus page can be confusing when some or all assignments do not have due dates, and Collaborations may be less useful for courses not using Office365 or Google tools for collaborative projects.

For existing courses, the course navigation menu will not change. For new courses and courses in which you modify the course navigation menu, you will see differences compared to the course template in effect previously. For more details, including training implications, see the Course Template Website.
Customizing Your Course Navigation Menu

As the instructor, you control which links appear in the Canvas Navigation. The active links are in black font and visible to the student. Links in light gray are not visible to the student. You can verify this using the Student View. The Home page is part of Course Navigation and displays the Course Home Page.

NOTE: Navigation shown to the right is the default setting for all courses.

To move or enable a feature, such as Announcements, Assignments, Discussions, etc., follow directions below.
