Subject: Continuing Canvas enrollment problem [02-05-19]

To instructors using Canvas

February 5, 2019, 4:30 p.m.

Some instructors and students are continuing to experience problems with their Canvas course enrollment. You may find that students who have added your course via WINGS are either not listed in the Canvas course roster or listed as "inactive" (unable to access the course materials).

UW System reported this morning they are trying to fully resolve the problems. We will update you via mass email with additional information as we receive it.
