

UNIVERSITY of WISCONSIN LA CROSSE

Dear friends, alumni and distinguished guests:

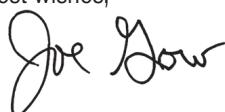

From our storied beginnings in 1909, when the La Crosse Normal School was founded, to our place of prominence today in 2013 the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse has grown into one of the best public universities in the country. Thus we can be proud of many things – in particular, today's graduating class.

Earlier this year, U.S. News & World Report ranked UW-L among the top five public universities in the Midwest who offer bachelor's and master's degrees, the highest ranking of any UW institution in this category. And we also now are ranked No. 43 in Kiplinger Magazine's list of the Top 100 Values in American Public Higher Education, further recognition of our strong national leadership in advanced education.

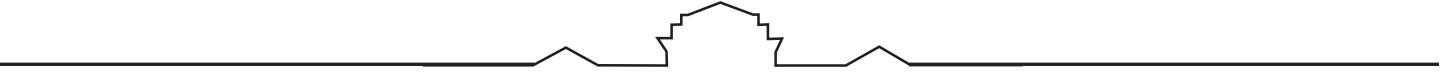

A commitment to excellence exists throughout the UW-L campus, and the accomplishments listed on page five showcase some of our most notable achievements. But the greatest testament to our tradition of academic excellence is the group of outstanding students who make up today's graduating class. Each one of them is a point of pride, and we're so very grateful for that.

So on behalf of the staff and faculty here at UW-L it's my pleasure to thank you for joining us today to celebrate the crowning achievement of the university experience. The future holds great promise for our graduates, and I hope you are as proud of them as we are!

Best wishes,

Joe Gow

Academic Dress

The academic apparel worn by faculty and staff in the processional has its origins in the universities of the Middle Ages. Because the universities grew out of church schools, both faculty and students were regarded as part of the clergy, and wore clerical clothing based on monastic dress.

The head covering developed from the skull cap worn to protect tonsured heads in cold weather. In the universities, the skull cap acquired a point at the top which gradually evolved into a tassel. In Europe, the bonnet with a tassel is still worn, but has been replaced in America by the mortar board cap or tam with a tassel.

The style of the gown may have been borrowed from the Benedictine monk's habit. In the Middle Ages, those with bachelor's and master's degrees could be distinguished by the simplicity or elaborateness of their gowns. The master's gowns were often furred, a decoration surviving as the three velvet bars now used on the sleeves of the doctoral gown.

The hood was originally worn over the head in bad weather, and otherwise dropped onto the shoulders. First worn by faculty and students, the hood is now added to the apparel of those with master's and doctoral degrees. The color of the velvet trim on the hood indicates the scholarly field, for example, dark blue (philosophy), golden yellow (science), light blue (education), pink (music), apricot (nursing), drab (business), and white (arts). The colors of the satin lining are those approved and authorized by the college or university from which the degree was earned.

Medallion Symbolizes Authority

Wearing a medallion or seal of office has been a symbol of authority since the Middle Ages. The seal marked official documents then; heads of institutions wore the seal around the neck to keep it in their possession. The chancellor's medallion features a design and materials that reflect UW-La Crosse. The mokume-gane or "wood grain metal" used is a specialty of the campus jewelry studio.

Mace Shows Quest for Truth

Once a weapon in medieval combat, the mace was adopted by universities as a symbol of the power of the quest for truth. The mace is carried in the commencement ceremony by a distinguished senior faculty member. William R. Fiorini, a UW-L art professor, designed and made the medallion and mace, which were used for the first time at the inauguration of Chancellor Judith L. Kuipers in September 1992.

The mace and medallion were given to the University by Mary Hebbert and Ruth Nixon-Davy, professors emeriti. Silver plaques on the medallion box and mace stand acknowledge these gifts.

Symbols of Academic Achievement

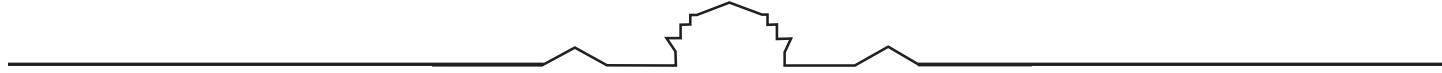

Many undergraduate students are wearing items that reflect high academic achievement. Commencement Honors are designated by silver cords, and are worn by students who have at least a 3.50 cumulative grade point average. Those wearing gold cords have earned Commencement Highest Honors with at least a 3.75 average. Members of the Golden Key International Honour Society are wearing a medallion on a blue and gold neck ribbon. The organization is open to the top 15 percent of graduating seniors in various fields of study. Discipline-specific honor organizations are represented by a variety of other cords.

International Flags and Sashes

The international flags displayed on the commencement platform represent the home countries of international students attending the University. Sashes are worn by graduates who studied abroad. Each sash represents the country in which the student studied.

College Banners

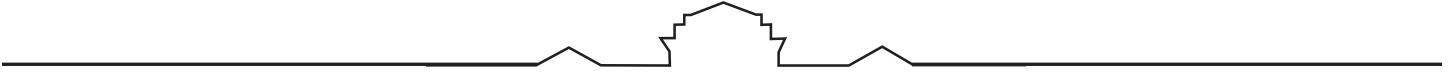

The banners used in the processional represent the colleges of the university and the colors indicate the scholarly fields within the colleges. The banners were designed by Arla Wojahn, Educational Technology Center, class of '04 and were produced by Chris Jackson, Mt. Borah, class of '91. They were first used at the inauguration of Chancellor Joe Gow in October 2007.

Even more reasons to be a proud UW-La Crosse graduate ...

- UW-L is the highest ranked Wisconsin public or private college in the Midwest among universities offering bachelor's and master's degrees in U.S. News & World Report's 2013 America's Best Colleges.
- More than 1,000 people from across the globe took part in the first massive open online course offered in the UW System in spring 2013. The MOOC was funded by a $50,000 grant from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. The free course helps students enter college and graduate in higher numbers, in less time and at lower costs.
- UW-L was again chosen to host the National Conference on Undergraduate Research. The 2013 event attracted around 3,500 faculty and students from more than 300 colleges and universities nationwide.
- The College of Business Administration earned the Council for Higher Education Accreditation Award for Outstanding Institutional Practice in Student Learning Outcomes in January 2013. It's the first Wisconsin college and only the second business school nationally to be honored.
- The Physics Department was one of only four nationwide to receive the American Physical Society's 2013 Improving Undergraduate Physics Education Award.
- The College of Business Administration was reaccredited by AACSB International – The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business in March 2013. The CBA has held AACSB accreditation since 1985.
- The Mississippi Valley Archaeology Center earned the 2012 Wisconsin Department of Transportation Tribal Excellence Award.
- Recreation Management and Therapeutic Recreation students who took the national examination for National Council for Therapeutic Recreation Certification for the first time received a 94.9 percent pass rate in 2012.
- UW-L international students contributed more than $9.2 million to the La Crosse economy in 2011-12, according to NAFSA: The Association of International Educators. The university's 406 international students once again placed third in the UW System for international student enrollment.
- UW-L is listed among Kiplinger's top 100 colleges and universities in the country that deliver academic quality and affordability. UW-L has been on Kiplinger's Top 100 for more than a decade.
- "It Make$ Cents!" – which offers financial advice for students – received a 2012 Wisconsin Financial Literacy Award.
- Associate Professor of Mathematics Jennifer Kosiak received one of only two 2012 UW System Regents Teaching Excellence Awards for her dedication and ability to inspire.
- G.I. Jobs placed UW-L on its 2013 list of Military Friendly Schools, honoring the top 15 percent of colleges embracing America's student veterans.
- May 2012 College of Business Administration graduates scored higher than 93 percent of other business students nationwide on tests measuring subject knowledge in business.
- A predominantly student voting district in the City of La Crosse had the second highest voter turnout (67 percent) among city precincts during the 2012 presidential election.

2013 Outstanding Graduates

The Murphy Awards for Academic Excellence

recognize the university's top two graduating scholars, as chosen by the Scholarship and Awards Committee. A grant from the Murphy Foundation created the awards in 1980. Marjorie P. Murphy, foundation president, cited a desire to recognize outstanding and exceptional scholastic ability. Recipients receive $1,500 and $1,000, respectively.

Tanya Larsen graduated in December with a Bachelor of Science degree in microbiology with a biomedical concentration. She was a member of Volunteering Within, Pre-Physician Assistant Club, and Golden Key Honor Society, and participated in intramurals. Also, she was a teacher's assistant in anatomy, physiology lab and fundamental microbiology lab, and worked in the Microbiology Prep Room. In January 2012, Larsen traveled to Nepal and India on a medical service trip with others from campus to bring health education to Buddhist monks and nuns. Larsen works as a CNA at Hillview Health Care Center. In May she will join the UW-L-Gundersen-Mayo Physician Assistant program in hopes of providing health care to an array of people. She is the daughter of Paul and Ann Larsen, Viroqua.

Jordan Ludwiginson graduates with a Bachelor of Science degree in biomedical science. He has been treasurer and president of the UW-L Pre-Medicine Club, a blood drive coordinator for the Blood Center of Wisconsin, a member of both pre-AMSA and pre-SOMA, a team leader for Relay-for-Life, and an intramurals participant. For three years, Ludwiginson has been a researcher for an EPA-funded research grant on "Trophic Transfer of Methylmercury in the Lower Food Webs of Six National Parks in the Upper Midwest." In fall, he plans to begin courses at the UW School of Medicine and Public Health to pursue a doctor of medicine. He hopes to practice medicine in underserved rural, western Wisconsin. He is the son of Randy and Joan Ludwiginson, Alma.

The Jake and Janet Hoeschler Award for Excellence recognizes a College of Business Administration graduate for academic accomplishment and qualities of leadership demonstrated in campus and community activities. Janet Hoeschler, a 1940 graduate, established the award in 1992 to signify a partnership of business and the university. The award extends the Hoeschlers' belief in excellence, education, philanthropy and the La Crosse community. Recipients receive $1,500.

Adam Pugh graduates with a double major in finance and the Honors Program in economics. He has been involved with residence hall governance and a resident assistant, and has taken part in Broadening Horizons. Pugh has been engaged in academic research and recently presented his honors thesis on trade sanctions at the National Conference on Undergraduate Research. He is currently working with several professors to co-author an economics paper on unemployment spells and call-back rates from employers. Following graduation, Pugh plans to participate in CUNA Mutual Group's Finance Leadership Program, which will expose him to different areas of corporate finance. After working several years he hopes to pursue a graduate degree. He is the son of Jason and Beth Pugh, Ripon.

The Strzelczyk Award in Science and Health recognizes an outstanding senior in the College of Science and Health for academic achievement and service to the campus and community. Robert, a 1954 graduate, and Judy Strzelczyk endowed the award in 1996. Also, they have provided funding for physical therapy research projects, research equipment, student loans, and four full-time tuition scholarships. Recipients receive $1,000.

Ben Sturomski graduates with a Bachelor of Science degree with highest honors in physics and mathematics education. Sturomski has been on the football team where he received conference and university scholar athlete honors. In the physics/engineering dual degree for three years, he transitioned into the School of Education Secondary Teacher Education Program. While completing final studies in physics education, Sturomski maintained a cumulative 4.0 GPA while transitioning from a football player, to a football assistant coach. He completed a semester of student teaching at La Crosse Central High School and West Salem Middle School. Sturomski plans to attend Northern Illinois University to earn a master's in sport management, along with serving as a graduate assistant for NIU athletics. He hopes to become an athletic academic adviser at a Division I university. He is the son of Ron and Kathy Sturomski, Marshfield.
