WiSys Student Ambassador Program Seeking Applicants

The WiSys Ambassador Program aims to enhance the vital connections between WiSys and the research community on UW System campuses. Engaging students to serve as WiSys Ambassadors brings a new dimension to WiSys’ outreach mission and augments our visibility and presence among researchers and students on each of the campuses we serve.

WiSys Ambassadors receive training in Intellectual Property (IP) as well as the technology transfer process, and learn how to access resources offered by WiSys and other campus organizations designed to support technology development and entrepreneurial activity.

Ambassadors spend five to 10 hours per month enhancing the understanding and awareness of WiSys’s role across the campuses, increasing engagement with academics and students undertaking innovative research, and helping to identify potential opportunities where WiSys can provide support. WiSys Ambassadors are involved in organizing seminars, hosting educational workshops, and serving as a valuable resource for their respective departments and campus.

Interested in helping to grow your campus's research community? Become a WiSys Ambassador.
