I am proposing a fairly large number of in-depth interviews for a summer project, especially in light of time needed to design a survey and interview questionnaire, to test it and refine it. Hiring a student assistant will make this doable, and will also train a student in the techniques of survey and interview design, and interviewing.

Equipment: Department owns recording equipment.

Travel:

I plan to travel to the Twin Cities twice to interview participants. I do not want to do it all in one trip, because I would like to do a test run and be able to come back and consider the data I have gathered, and see if my questions need refining before continuing.
