Thank you again for your recent application to UW-La Crosse!

This email is to let you know that the first review date for the recruitment to which you applied has arrived. The Search Committee/Panel will begin to review applications at this time and will reach out to you should there be a need for additional information and/or schedule an interview.

Due to the high volume of applicants and number of recruitments, we kindly ask that you refrain from emailing the Committee/Panel or Human Resources for a status update.

From this point, you can expect the search to last an additional 30-60 days before a final candidate is placed. Please note, we always notify candidates at the conclusion of each search of their status.

Again, thank you for your interest in UW-La Crosse and your patience during our process.
