

Adjusting Screen Saver Timing

To prevent the iMac from logging you off during class, you need to adjust the screen saver setting after you login. You should only need to do this one time.

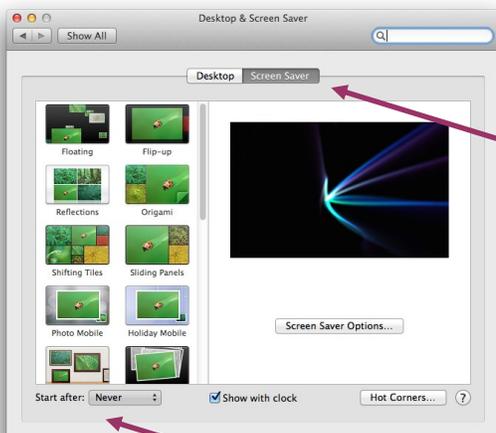

Click on the Apple icon on the top left of the screen. Select System Preferences.

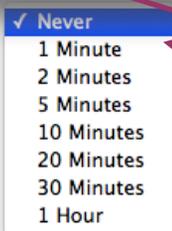

Select Desktop & Screen Saver.

Select Screen Saver tab.

Select Start After drop down box and select the

If you are still being logged off during class, then the Energy Saver timing will need to be adjusted in System Preferences. Changing this setting can only be done by an administrator.
