Thanksgiving Break Information
Thanksgiving Break: November 22-26, 2017

If you are planning on being in your residence hall at all between 6pm on Wednesday, November 22 (when Thanksgiving Break begins) and 11am on Sunday, November 26 (when break concludes), we ask that you complete this short form.

You will NOT be charged for staying on campus during this time. However, in order to appropriately plan for safety and staff needs, the Office of Residence Life needs to know who is on campus during this time.

Anyone staying during the break should read and agree to the following:

- You are permitted to come and go to your residence hall as you'd like during break.
- The exterior doors will remain locked during the break. You may enter your residence hall through the front door with your ID access only.
- You will only have ID access to your assigned residence hall. You are responsible for any guests that enter the building with you.
- There will be limited staff during the break. They will be conducting rounds throughout the building for safety purposes throughout the break. Should you encounter an issue or emergency, you are encouraged to contact University Police (608-789-9999).
- Your residence hall front desk may not be open during the break, but you will have access to the Eagle or Reuter Front Desk from 2-6pm each day during the break.
- No food service will be available on campus during the break period. Pizzas will be available at the Eagle and Reuter Front Desk during the times listed above. And the kitchen in each residence hall will be open to accommodate food preparation needs. Access to kitchen equipment will be limited to check out at the Eagle or Reuter Desks during those times.
- As always, you are expected to uphold the rights and responsibilities as well as the Office of Residence Life’s Policies and Procedures.
