Lockers are $10 per semester – regardless of size –, which can be paid in advance for entire school year. There are three pay periods: Fall, Spring, Summer. Please make all checks payable to: UW-L Music Dept.

The student pays the locker fee in the Listening Lab (rm. 145). With the receipt, the student should seek the sorting room staff in the basement (rm. 52) to receive lock and locker. Hours will be posted. Sorting room staff will email database to ensemble directors to verify all lockers paid for and instruments checked out.

F. End of Semester Checkout for Lockers
Signs will be posted in the locker room area to remind everyone of the “end of semester” deadlines (may be staggered from ensemble to ensemble).

Locker rental will end on noon of the last day of Class Before Finals (specific date determined by academic calendar). If the student is not continuing with locker rental, all materials should be removed by this date/time.
If the student is going to extend locker use for the following semester he or she must renew the contract by noon of the last day of class prior to Finals (specific date determined by academic calendar).

If the student’s materials are not picked up by noon on the last day of finals, the student will have to retrieve locker materials from room 145.

G. Music Library
A large collection of musical scores, DVD/VHS, compact disc, cassette, and LP formats is available for student study and research in the CFA Listening Lab room 145. Students may not remove recordings from the listening center except for music education materials. Items that are available for checkout are subject to overdue charges.

III. Instrument Loan
All students are eligible to checkout an instrument with the consent of an Instructor.

A. Instrument Assignment

*NOTE: not necessary in all cases i.e. marching band camp.

B. Damage and Repair
All damages and repair costs are assessed and billed at the discretion of the ensemble director.

C. End of Semester Checkout

IV. Music Major Information
UW-La Crosse offers degree options in music and music education.

The Bachelor of Music major can be completed as the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) and the Bachelor of Science (B.S.). All students must declare an “emphasis” within the music major degree.

The Bachelor of Science in Music Education (B.S.) degrees include the following: choral, instrumental (band and/or orchestra), and general (elementary music). All Bachelor of Science in Music Education degrees lead to state Department of Instruction licensure.

A. Music Major Core Requirements
All music degrees require the completion of the music major core requirements.

NOTE: some emphases designate elective courses. View each emphasis for more specific information within the B.A. or B.S. degrees in Music at UW-La Crosse online Undergraduate catalog

i. Music Theory (MUS 235, 236, 237, 238, 335, 336, 337, 338)
The Music Theory sequence is required for all Music and Music Education Majors. The Music Theory sequence is configured through pairs of interconnected courses (Music Theory (3 credits) & Music Reading and Aural Skills (1 credit)) and must be taken in sequence. Music Theory I/Music Reading and Aural Skills I (MRAS) and Music Theory III/MRAS III are only offered in fall semesters. Music Theory II/MRAS II and Music Theory IV/MRAS are only offered in spring semesters.

B. Applied Music Lessons
Applied Music Study is a requirement for the music major. Placement into intermediate level (200 course-level) is determined by successful audition for the Department of Music. Contact the Music Office to schedule an audition. An audition form and auditions requirements can be found on the music department website www.uwlax.edu/music.

NOTE: Students may enroll in a maximum of two applied areas any semester.

i. 200- and 300-Level Applied Lesson Courses
Students enrolled in 200 level courses will be scheduled for one private lesson each week for a minimum of 30 minutes. The student will also meet for one studio class per week. The individual’s instructor will communicate expectations for the private lesson and studio class. The Department schedules the official studio class time, but the instructor and student will arrange the individual lesson time. Enrolling at the 300 Level of applied courses requires a special jury that is outlined below: “Jury for Admission Into the 300 Level.”

ii. Juries
Students enrolled in 200 or 300 course level applied courses will perform for a Department of Music jury at the close of each regular academic semester. Juries are coordinated by area: voice, brass, winds, strings, percussion and piano. Each student’s jury will be assigned a specific time and will range from 6 to 15 minutes in length for the entire performance. Please consult your primary instructor for more specific performance requirements regarding the jury.

iii. Jury for Admission Into the 300 Level
After a minimum of two semesters of private study, enrolled at the 200 level, a student may apply for admission to the 300 level of applied courses. Admission to the 300 Level will include specific performance requirements as well as completing the written application to the 300 level, found at the Department of Music website.

iv. 400-Level Applied Lesson Courses
Music Majors and Instrumental/Choral Music Education Majors will present a capstone project in the applied area referred to as the Senior Recital. Students enrolled in recital-level courses (400 level) will present a public recital. Please refer to the requirements regarding the Senior Recital found at Recital and Concert Attendance/Convocation in this Handbook.

v. Additional Fee for Applied Lesson Courses
Generally, after receiving permission to register for applied music, a student may register for the course and pay only tuition for the credit. Music majors and minors may enroll for a maximum of nine semesters in a single applied area without paying an additional applied music fee. Of those nine semesters, a maximum of six credits may be earned at the 200-level (that is, a student must complete a successful audition to the 300 level following the sixth semester of applied lessons to continue taking lessons without paying the applied music fee).
Students who do not declare a music major or music minor may audition to take lessons at the 200-Level of Applied Lessons, but an additional applied music fee will be added to the tuition statement. Contact the Music Office (785-8409) to receive the most current applied music fee.

The piano proficiency is included on the transcript as a requirement prior to student teaching for the music education major. The piano proficiency is the final exam in MUS 149 and receiving a grade of “B” or better in the course indicates passing the piano proficiency. Any student without a grade of “B” or above in MUS 149 should contact the keyboard instructor for further instructions regarding fulfilling this requirement.

Students are strongly recommended to begin preparation for the piano proficiency by enrolling in MUS 146 and MUS 147 in the Fall Semester of even academic years.

Students with a strong background in piano are encouraged to take a keyboard placement exam with the keyboard instructor. At the beginning of the fall semester, piano placement exams are available to help a student determine how much preparation she or he might need prior to enrolling in MUS 149. Please see the keyboard instructor to set up a placement exam. No preparation for the piano placement exam is necessary.

Note: Education Majors with the General Music and/or Choral Emphases must take additional piano courses after completing MUS 149. Passing MUS 149 with a “B” or better is your admission into MUS 249 (Piano Sight-reading). Please see the keyboard instructor regarding MUS 249.

Theory and Aural Skills must be taken concurrently. Teaching certification is not granted for minor only.

Students can complete the music minor to complement all other degree programs, except elementary music education. You should talk to your major advisor to see how compatible the course offerings are with your major.

IX. Music Theatre Minor Requirements

(Open ONLY to theatre major: music theatre emphasis students only) 18 credits – MUS 235, 236, 237, 238, 304; applied music: four credits in voice. Four semesters of participation in ensembles, at least three of which will be for credit.

B. Gen. Ed. Courses: MUS 105, MUS 110, MUS 201, MUS 204 & MUS 209
The Department of Music offers several courses to fulfill general education requirements.

MUS 201 is a required course for music majors, but it also serves to complete general education requirements in the GE04 category.

MUS 204 (Latin American Music) also serves in the GEO4 category.

MUS 105 and MUS 110 are music appreciation courses and serve to complete general education requirements in the GE08 category.

MUS 209 (Jazz Cultures) is offered in the GE03 category.

XI. Recital and Concert Attendance/Convocation
A. Departmental Recitals
Departmental Recitals are held on Fridays during the convocation time assigned to students enrolled in applied lessons (currently Friday at 1:10 PM).

Departmental Recitals are traditionally used for solo and chamber ensembles with the approval from the student’s applied teacher or coach. The application form is located in the Music Office (CFA 234). Correct title, movement composer dates and timings of selection are required for submission.

Scheduled Departmental Recitals are posted on the web and can be found on the Departmental application form, along with the deadline for submitting the complete performance application to the Music Office. Priority for performance is scheduled for the earliest received applications.

These performances are free and open to the public. Departmental Recitals are generally accepted for completing concert attendance requirements for music appreciation students, music majors and music minors.

B. Concert Card Attendance Requirement for the major/minor
To fulfill the requirement of attending a variety of concerts, the Department of Music documents this attendance through the Concert Card. Concert Cards are disseminated at the Fall Music Majors/Minors meeting held on the first Friday of classes. Should you miss this meeting or lose your card, you should immediately seek assistance in the Music Office.

Concert Cards require Music faculty signatures and should be brought to the attended event. Completed Concert Cards should be submitted to the Music Department Office and will be kept on file until after graduation.

1. Music Minors must have 4 semesters of Concert attendance completed—each card requires 12 concerts with faculty signatures for each concert. Student performances in ensembles count as concert card attendance.
2. Music Majors must have 6 semesters of Concert Cards completed – each card requires 12 concerts with faculty signatures for each concert. Student performances in ensembles count as concert card attendance.

C. Senior Recital Guidelines

i. Requirements
The Senior Recital is one of the capstone projects for music majors and music education majors. Performance emphases require a full recital and all other emphases and education majors require a minimum of a partial recital. Full and partial recitals are defined below.

1. The recitalist should be enrolled concurrently in applied music at the 300/400 levels during the semester of the scheduled performance.
2. MUA 472 is considered a full recital (required for performance emphases) and includes 40 minutes performance time, where 75% will be solo literature.
3. Partial Recitals, MUA 471 (minimum requirement for non-performance emphases and music education majors) include 20 minutes performance time, where 75% will be solo literature. It is recommended by the general music faculty that partial recitals be performed in pairs.
4. Upon the discretion of the applied teacher and student, the music education major and other non-performance emphases may elect to perform a full recital.
5. The Music Office will distribute a Recital Evaluation sheet to the Evaluation Committee (defined later). The Evaluation committee will submit this pall/fail grade sheet to the Music Office. The applied faculty instructor recitalist will communicate the results of this evaluation to the recitalist.

ii. Recital Evaluation Committee
The student arranges the three-member evaluation committee early in the semester. The committee must include the student’s applied instructor and one other applied instructor. Two members of the evaluation committee must be members of the voting faculty (half-time or higher). If both applied instructors are members of the voting faculty, the third member may be chosen from the faculty at large, including adjunct faculty.

The signatures of the Recital Evaluation Committee on the Hall Reservation Form serve as sufficient notification of the scheduled recital date/time. Faculty members are required to attend the actual performance. Should a scheduling conflict arise on the part of the faculty, it is the obligation of the faculty member to resolve it and communicate this to the student.

The serving faculty must attend the recital and assess a grade of either “pass” or “fail”. A student receiving an evaluation of “fail” may repeat the recital for a second evaluation after a period of three weeks or more.

iii. Scheduling
1. All Senior Recitals are scheduled for performance in Annett Recital Hall.
2. All recitals are to occur a minimum of seven days preceding Finals.
3. All evening recitals will occur at 7:30 PM, the standard start time for Department performances. Afternoon recitals may be scheduled at either 2:00 PM or 4:00 PM on Saturday or Sunday.

4. The soloist may schedule Annett Recital Hall through the Academic Department Associate (Room 234). Scheduling includes completing the Hall Reservation Form (available from the Music Department office, Room 234) and reserving Annett Recital Hall.

5. The Hall Reservation Form is due on the first Wednesday of the semester (same as MUS 480) so that senior recitals may be included on the Music Department Concert Calendar.

6. The Hall Reservation Form includes reserving the date, set-up for the hall (pianos, stands, etc.), signatures of the Evaluation Committee and the signature for a backstage manager. The backstage manager will be a volunteer, and should be another student familiar with the recitalist and protocol for recitals.

7. The performer is entitled to reserve Annett Recital Hall for one hour prior to the recital, the recital itself, and three additional hours for rehearsal time. It is highly recommended that the dress rehearsal be scheduled as early as possible since Annett Recital Hall is in very high demand and may not be available as the semester progresses.

iv. Changes to Senior Recitals
As with all policies, students have the right to petition the Music Faculty (a minimum of two weeks’ notice) for any changes to the above policies.

Changes in recital dates or times must be submitted in writing to the Full Faculty for a vote. If the Faculty approves the change, the Department will make the necessary changes to the Concert Calendar on the website, and contact appropriate faculty and UW-L administration. The student is responsible for notifying the Recital Evaluation committee and any other publicity that has occurred (that is, correcting posters, etc.).

v. Programs
1. Recital program content is the responsibility of the student in consultation with the applied instructor. These programs should follow the template available at the UW-L Department of Music website.

2. Programs must be submitted to the Music Office no less than 7 working days prior to the recital, so that there is adequate time to have copies made (at the expense of the Music Department). The recital programs will be put in Annett Recital Hall Recording Booth prior to the day of the recital.

3. Students are encouraged to create posters to publicize events to peers and the university community at-large. Posters must include “University of Wisconsin-La Crosse” and “Department of Music”.
vi. Reception Policy
Providing food and beverages at a reception following a recital is not mandatory. However, if the student wishes to make arrangements for a reception that is to be held in the lobby of the Center for the Arts, he/she must make those arrangements through the Sodexo food service organization at UW-L.

Out of courtesy for the common lobby shared with Departments of Theatre and Art, please have the Music Office notify those Departments regarding an additional reception following a senior recital.

D. Honors Recital
The Honors Recital features music students voted as exceptional performances at returning student Scholarship/Honors auditions. These auditions and the Honors Recital are held in the spring semester.

Music faculty (half-time appointment or greater) vote for audition performances. Honors Recital audition requirements are defined below.

1. Any student auditioning for Honors Recital must be enrolled in applied music for at least one semester during the current academic year.
2. A student may audition only in his/her major applied area(s).
3. The ensemble/accompanist for the audition must be the same ensemble/accompanist for the Honors Recital performance.
4. In rare circumstances, an ensemble chooses to audition; all participants must be UW-L students. Exceptions to this rule may be considered by written petition to the full faculty. Concerns should be addressed to the Recital Committee.
5. The preliminary vote to pass students for Honors Recital will take place by written ballot. 2/3 favorable votes for each student are required; the 2/3 majority will come from the percentage of faculty who heard the audition. Discussion for ties will take place only if needed after the preliminary vote.
6. The Honors Recital will be held during the Spring Semester and all music faculty are expected to attend.
7. The Honors Recital shall be no less than 50 minutes, not greater than 90 minutes in length (a minimum of 5 performers). Individual performances shall be no longer than ten minutes or shorter than 5 minutes. Exceptions to this limit must be made by petition to the full faculty. A simple majority will rule on petitions.

E. Accompanist List, Guidelines and Fees
Students are responsible for providing their own accompanists for performances such as juries or senior recitals. All suggested fees are to be negotiated between the soloist and the accompanist.

Suggested Fees
NOTE: Fee may be adjusted due to the ease/difficulty of the accompaniment and will be left to the discretion of the accompanist.
Initial Fee: $10 AND accompaniments when the music is presented to the accompanist. The $10 is non-refundable and is a contract between you the student and the accompanist.

Our mission is to promote music through performance, education, and community involvement and to advance music education by encouraging the study and making of music by all.

For more information on NAfME and the organization’s upcoming events, check out the NAfME bulletin board outside CFA room 56.

B. American Choral Directors Association (ACDA)
ACDA is an organization geared toward providing professional development opportunities in music.

For more information about this organization, visit http://www.acda.org or contact Dr. Gary Walth (gwalth@uw.lax.edu).

C. Music Teacher’s National Association Collegiate Chapter (MTNA)
MTNA is an organization aimed at connecting future music teachers with the larger community of music professionals. The collegiate chapters strive to provide the “information and experience necessary” to creating strong teachers. Many educators in this organization are focused on performance and individual study. Contact Dr. Mary Tollefson for more information: mtollefson@uw.lax.edu.

XVIII. Student Representative
The Student Representative is elected at the beginning of each school year. The Student Representative is the link between the Music Department faculty and the music major and minor students. As such, the Representative is expected to attend all faculty meetings as requested by the Music Department Chair. They are responsible for bringing student concerns to the faculty, and for communicating important information from the faculty to the student body. For more information see the current Student Representative or the Music Office.
XIX. Student Employment

Many students enjoy the benefits of working part-time while going to school. Working part-time is a great way to assist with paying for the cost to attend college. Part-time work also helps students to improve their time management and organizational skills, while they are gaining valuable work experience.

It must be noted that it is important for students to maintain a balance between work hours and the number of credits taken in a given semester.

The Federal Work-Study (FWS) program provides part-time jobs for undergraduate and graduate students with significant financial need, allowing them to earn money to assist with their educational expenses. A student must complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) in order to determine eligibility for the FWS program. To qualify for the program, students must meet specific financial aid requirements. If the student qualifies for the program, a Work-Study allocation will be part of his/her financial aid award proposal, along with information on a placement. Positions, both on- and off-campus, are limited to 20 hours per week and are paid at least the current federal minimum wage.

A. Student Employment Non-Work Study Student Help

All UW-L students enrolled for official university credit toward a degree or certification program are eligible to apply for on-campus student help positions.

B. Contact Information

If a student qualifies for work-study they can request to work within the music department. Contact the Music Department Academic Department Associate for more information at (608) 785-8409 or in the Center for the Fine Arts Room 234.

C. Positions Available

Students can be employed in one of five occupations including Librarian, Locker Room Manager, Annett Recital Hall Manager, Listening Lab Assistant, and Office Assistant.

XXI. Health and Safety concerns

A. HEALTH AND SAFETY INFORMATION AND RECOMMENDATIONS FOR STUDENT MUSICIANS

Introduction
The Department of Music, as required by the National Association of Schools of Music, is obligated to inform students and faculty of health and safety issues, hazards, and procedures inherent in practice, performance, teaching, and listening both in general and as applicable to their specific specializations. This includes but is not limited to information regarding hearing, vocal and musculoskeletal health, injury prevention, and the use, proper handling, and operation of potentially dangerous materials, equipment, and technology.

The Department of Music has developed policies, protocols, and operational procedures to guard against injury and illness in the study and practice of music, as well as to raise the awareness among our students and faculty of the connections between musicians’ health, the suitability and safety of equipment and technology, and the acoustic and other health-related conditions in the University's practice, rehearsal, and performance facilities.

It is important to note that health and safety depends largely on personal decisions made by informed individuals. The University of Wisconsin-La Crosse has health and safety responsibilities, but fulfillment of these responsibilities cannot and will not ensure any individual’s health and safety. Too many factors beyond the university’s control are involved.

Each individual is personally responsible for avoiding risk and preventing injuries to themselves before, during, and after study or employment in the University. The policies, protocols, and operational procedures developed by the Department of Music do not alter or cancel any individual’s personal responsibility, or in any way shift personal responsibility for the results of any individual’s personal decisions or actions in any instance or over time to the University.

Performance Injuries
Anyone who practices, rehearses or performs instrumental or vocal music has the potential to suffer injury related to that activity. Instrumental musicians are at risk for repetitive motion injuries. Sizable percentages of them develop physical problems related to playing their instruments; and if they are also computer users, their risks are compounded. Instrumental injuries often include carpal tunnel syndrome, tendinitis, and bursitis. Incorrect posture, non-ergonomic technique, excessive force, overuse, stress, and insufficient rest contribute to chronic injuries that can cause great pain, disability, and the end of careers.

What Instrumentalists Should Do
1. Evaluate your technique. Reduce force, keep joints in the middle of their range of motion, use large muscle groups when possible, and avoid fixed, tense positions.
2. Always warm up. As an athlete would not begin a vigorous physical activity without warming up, a musician must warm up carefully before practice or performance.
3. Take breaks to stretch and relax. Take short breaks every few minutes and longer breaks each hour. Two or more shorter rehearsals each day are more productive than marathon single sessions. Even in performance, find those opportunities to relax a hand, arm, or embouchure to restore circulation.
4. Pace yourself. No pain, no gain is a potentially catastrophic philosophy for a musician. Know when enough is enough, and learn to say 'no' to certain performances or lengths of performing that might result in injury.
5. Check out your instrument. Does your instrument place undue stress on your body? Is your instrument set up optimally for you to relieve pressure on hands, joints, etc.? Is there a strap, carrier, or stand available to relieve the stress?
6. Evaluate other activities. Pains and injuries affecting your music making could be caused by other activities in your daily life. Computer use is notorious for causing afflictions including carpal tunnel syndrome and tendinitis.
7. Pay attention to your body. Pain is the mechanism by which your body tells you that something is wrong. Listen to your body; if it hurts, stop what you are doing.
8. Get medical attention. Do not delay in seeing a doctor. A physician may prescribe a minor adjustment or, in worst-case scenarios, stipulate not performing for a period of time. As drastic as this may sound, a few months of rest is better than suffering a permanent, career ending injury. Likewise, the demands placed on singers’ voices are immense. Hardly a month goes by where a top singer is not forced to interrupt a tour, take a break, or undergo a medical procedure due to problems with their voice. Medical professionals are making the case that the demands put on one’s voice when singing one to three hours is as intense as those made on an Olympic marathon runner’s body. Additional factors such as nutrition, smoking, drug use, noisy environments, and proper voice training (or the lack of it) all play a role in a singer’s ability to perform at her/his best.
What Singers Should Do:
1. Maintain good general health. Get adequate rest to minimize fatigue. If you do become ill, avoid "talking over your laryngitis" - see your physician and rest your voice.
2. Exercise regularly.
3. Eat a balanced diet. Including vegetables, fruit and whole grains, and avoid caffeinated drinks (coffee, tea, and soft drinks) and alcohol. Avoid spicy, acidic, and dairy foods if you are sensitive to them.
4. Maintain body hydration; drink two quarts of water daily.
5. Avoid dry, artificial interior climates. Las Vegas has an average daily humidity of 36%, a relatively low amount of moisture. Using a humidifier at night might compensate for the dryness.
6. Limit the use of your voice. High-ceilinged restaurants, noisy parties, cars and planes are especially damaging to the voice. If necessary, use amplification for vocal projection.
7. Avoid throat clearing and voiced coughing.
8. Stop yelling, and avoid hard vocal attacks on initial vowel words.
9. Adjust the speaking pitch level of your voice. Use the pitch level in the same range where you say, "Umm-hmm?"
10. Speak in phrases rather than in paragraphs. Breathe slightly before each phrase.
11. Reduce demands on your voice - don't do all the talking!
12. Learn to breathe silently to activate your breath support muscles and reduce neck tension.
13. Take full advantage of the two free elements of vocal fold healing: water and air.
14. Vocal athletes must treat their musculoskeletal system as do other types of athletes; therefore, vocal warm-ups should always be used prior to singing. Vocal cool-downs are also essential to keep the singing voice healthy.

What All UW-La Crosse Musicians Should Do
1. Stay informed. Awareness is the key. Like many health-related issues, prevention is much easier and less expensive than cures. Take time to read available information concerning injuries associated with your art.
2. Musicians might find the following books helpful:

HEARING LOSS

Note - The information in this document is generic and advisory in nature. It is not a substitute for professional, medical judgments. It should not be used as a basis for medical treatment. If you are concerned about your hearing or think you may have suffered hearing loss, consult a licensed medical professional.

Part of the role of any professional is to remain in the best condition to practice the profession. As an aspiring musician, this involves safeguarding your hearing health. Whatever your plans after graduation - whether they involve playing, teaching, engineering, or simply enjoying music - you owe it to yourself and your fellow musicians to do all you can to protect your hearing. If you are serious about pursuing a career in music, you need to protect your hearing. The way you hear music, the way you recognize and differentiate pitch, the way you play music; all are directly connected to your hearing.

Music & Noise In the scientific world, all types of sound, including music, are regularly categorized as noise. A sound that is too loud, or too loud for too long, is dangerous to hearing health, no matter what kind of sound it is or whether we call it noise, music, or something else. Music itself is not the issue. Loudness and its duration are the issues. Music plays an important part in hearing health, but hearing health is far larger than music.

Noise-Induced Hearing Loss (NIHL)

We experience sound in our environment, such as the sounds from television and radio, household appliances, and traffic. Normally, we hear these sounds at safe levels that do not affect our hearing. However, when we are exposed to harmful noise - sounds that are too loud or loud sounds that last a long time - sensitive structures in our inner ear can be damaged, causing noise-induced hearing loss (NIHL). These sensitive structures, called hair cells, are small sensory cells that convert sound energy into electrical signals that travel to the brain. Once damaged, our hair cells cannot grow back. NIHL can be caused by a one-time exposure to an intense "impulse" sound, such as an explosion, or by continuous exposure to loud sounds over an extended period of time. The humming of a refrigerator is 45 decibels, normal conversation is approximately 60 decibels, and the noise from heavy city traffic can reach 85 decibels. Sources of noise that can cause NIHL include motorcycles, firecrackers, and small firearms, all emitting sounds from 120 to 150 decibels. Long or repeated exposure to sounds at or above 85 decibels can cause hearing loss. The louder the sound, the shorter the time period before NIHL can occur. Sounds of less than 75 decibels, even after long exposure, are unlikely to cause hearing loss. Although being aware of decibel levels is an important factor in protecting one’s hearing, distance from the source of the sound and duration of exposure to the sound are equally important. A good rule of thumb is to avoid noises that are "too loud" and "too close" or that last "too long."

It is very important to understand that the hair cells in your inner ear cannot regenerate. Damage done to them is permanent. There is no way to repair or undo this damage.

According to the American Academy of Audiology, approximately 26 million Americans have hearing loss. One in three developed their hearing loss as a result of exposure to noise. As you pursue your day-to-day activities, both in the Department of Music and in other educational, vocational, and recreational environments, remember:

1. Hearing health is essential to your lifelong success as a musician.
2. Your hearing can be permanently damaged by loud sounds, including music. Technically, this is called Noise-Induced Hearing Loss (NIHL). This danger is constant.
3. Noise-induced hearing loss is generally preventable. You must avoid overexposure to loud sounds, especially for long periods of time.
4. The closer you are to the source of a loud sound, the greater the risk of damage.
5. Sounds over 85 dB (your typical vacuum cleaner) in intensity pose the greatest risk to your hearing.
6. Recommended maximum daily exposure times to sounds at or above 85 dB are as follows: 85 dB (vacuum cleaner, MP3 player at 1/3 volume) - 8 hours 90 dB (blender, hair dryer) - 2 hours 94 dB (MP3 player at 1/2 volume) - 1 hour 100 dB (MP3 player at full volume, lawnmower) - 15 minutes 110 dB (rock concert, power tools) - 2 minutes 120 dB (jet planes at take-off) - without ear protection, sound damage is almost immediate
7. Certain behaviors (controlling volume levels in practice and rehearsal, planning rehearsal order to provide relief from high volume works, avoiding noisy environments) reduce your risk of hearing loss.
8. The use of earplugs (Sensaphonics, ProGuard, Sensorcom) helps to protect your hearing health.
9. Day-to-day decisions can impact your hearing health, both now and in the future. Since sound exposure occurs in and out of the Department of Music, you also need to learn more and take care of your own hearing health on a daily, even hourly basis.
10. If you are concerned about your personal hearing health, talk with a medical professional.
11. If you are concerned about your hearing health in relationship to your study of music at UW La Crosse, consult with your applied instructor, ensemble conductor, advisor, or Department Chair.

Department-Owned Instruments
The Department of Music maintains a collection of musical instruments for checkout and use by members of the music faculty and students enrolled in our courses and performing ensembles. As with other items we use in the course of our daily lives, musical instruments must be cared for properly and cleaned regularly. Each instrument in the School's collection receives a thorough inspection at the conclusion of the academic year. Every year, thousands of dollars are spent to clean, adjust, and return instruments to full playing condition.

Antiseptically Clean
More and more our society is pushing for products that are anti-fungal, anti-bacterial and anti-viral. Some even go the next step further aiming to achieve sterile. However, our bodies by design are not meant to live in a sterile environment. As kids we played in the dirt, ate bugs and countless other things and became stronger because of it. Keep in mind that total sterility is a fleeting moment. Once a sterile instrument has been handled or exposed to room air it is no longer considered to be sterile. It will however remain antiseptically clean until used.

Most viruses cannot live on hard surfaces for a prolonged period of time. Some die simply with exposure to air. However, certain groups are quite hardy. Therefore, musicians must be concerned with instrument hygiene. Users of school owned and rented musical equipment might be more susceptible to infections from instruments that are not cleaned and maintained properly.
If the cleaning process is thorough, however, musical instruments will be antiseptically clean. Just as with the utensils you eat with, soap and water can clean off anything harmful. Antibacterial soaps will kill certain germs but all soaps will carry away the germs that stick to dirt and oils while they clean. No germs/ no threat.

Infectious Disease Risks:
Sharing musical instruments is a widespread, accepted practice in the profession. However, recent discussion in the profession has included concern regarding shared musical instruments and infectious disease, especially HIV.

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC), has confirmed that there is no risk of transmission of HIV (the virus that causes AIDS), or Hepatitis B (HBV) through shared musical instruments. The reasons for this are that these diseases are passed via a blood-to-blood, sexual fluid or mucous membrane contact. There has been no case of saliva transmission of HIV (the virus that causes AIDS), or Hepatitis B (HBV).

Instrument Hygiene

While the possibility of transmission of the above bacteria and viruses is not a real consideration, it is apparent that there should be a protocol with regard to shared musical instruments. Sharing of instruments is routine in music schools, where students practice and perform on borrowed instruments throughout the year. In our discussion with our consultants, certain basic considerations and recommendations for standard operating procedures regarding shared instruments were recommended as follows:

1. All musicians or students should have their own instrument if possible.
2. All musicians or students should have their own mouthpiece if possible.
3. All students and faculty sharing reed instruments MUST have their own individual reeds. Reeds should NEVER be shared.
4. If instruments must be shared in class, alcohol wipes or Sterisol germicide solution should be available for use between different people. When renting or using a Department-owned musical instrument, each user must understand that regular cleaning of these musical instruments is required in order to practice proper hygiene. The student must initial and date the following statement upon checkout of the institutionally owned wind instrument.

Mouthpieces
The mouthpiece (flute headjoint), English Horn and bassoon bocal, and saxophone neck crook) are essential parts of wind instruments. As the only parts of these instruments placed either in or close to the musician’s mouth, research has concluded that these parts (and reeds) harbor the greatest quantities of bacteria. Adhering to the following procedures will ensure that these instrumental parts will remain antiseptically clean for the healthy and safe use of our students and faculty.
Cleaning the Flute Head Joint
1. Using a cotton swab saturated with denatured, isopropyl alcohol, carefully clean around the embouchure hole.
2. Alcohol wipes can be used on the flute’s lip plate to kill germs if the flute shared by several players.
3. Using a soft, lint-free silk cloth inserted into the cleaning rod, clean the inside of the headjoint.
4. Do not run the headjoint under water as it may saturate and eventually shrink the headjoint cork.

Cleaning Bocals
1. Bocals should be cleaned every month with a bocal brush, mild soap solution, and running water.
2. English Horn bocals can be cleaned with a pipe cleaner, mild soap solution, and running water. Be careful not to scratch the inside of the bocal with the exposed wire ends of the pipe cleaner.

Cleaning Hard Rubber (Ebony) Mouthpieces
1. Mouthpieces should be swabbed after each playing and cleaned weekly.
2. Select a small (to use less liquid) container that will accommodate the mouthpiece and place the mouthpiece tip down in the container.
3. Fill the container to where the ligature would begin with a solution of half water and half white vinegar (50% water and 50% hydrogen peroxide works too). Protect clarinet mouthpiece corked tenons from moisture.
4. After a short time, use an appropriately sized mouthpiece brush to remove any calcium deposits or other residue from inside and outside surfaces. This step may need to be repeated if the mouthpiece is excessively dirty.
5. Rinse the mouthpiece thoroughly and then saturate with Sterisol germicide solution. Place on paper towel and wait one minute.
7. Note: Metal saxophone mouthpieces clean up well with hot water, mild dish soap (not dishwasher detergent), and a mouthpiece brush. Sterisol germicide solution is also safe for metal mouthpieces.

Cleaning Saxophone Necks (Crooks)
1. Swabs and pad-savers are available to clean the inside of the saxophone neck. However, most saxophonists use a flexible bottlebrush and toothbrush to accomplish the same results.
2. If the instrument is played daily, the saxophone neck should be cleaned weekly (and swabbed out each day after playing).
3. Use the bottlebrush and mild, soapy water to clean the inside of the neck.
4. Rinse under running water.
5. Sterisol germicide solution may be used on the inside of the neck at this time, if desired (not necessary). Place on paper towel for one minute.
6. Rinse again under running water, dry, and place in the case.
7. If using pad-savers, do not leave the pad-saver inside the neck when packed away.
Cleaning Brass Mouthpieces
1. Mouthpieces should be cleaned monthly.
2. Using a cloth soaked in warm, soapy water, clean the outside of the mouthpiece.
3. Use a mouthpiece brush and warm, soapy water to clean the inside.
4. Rinse the mouthpiece and dry thoroughly.
5. Sterisol germicide solution may be used on the mouthpiece at this time. Place on paper towel for one minute.

Other Instruments
1. String, percussion, and keyboard instruments present few hygienic issues that cannot be solved simply by the musician washing their hands before and after use.

Personal Hygiene
Students should be conscious of their personal health and hygiene. UW-La Crosse supports health and wellness in many ways. For more information contact the Health Science Center: 608-785-8558.

Students are encouraged to regularly use sanitizing dispensers located outside rooms in the Center for the Arts to minimize the risks of disease transmission.

Practice Rooms
Practice rooms in the Center for the Arts building are open for use by all UW-La Crosse students, however Music Majors, Minors and students performing in Department of Music Ensembles receive priority for the use of these facilities. For personal safety reasons students should never cover the windows of the practice rooms. Please remember to turn off lights and remove all items before leaving.

Building Hours
Music students should be aware of the building hours of the Center for the Arts, which are posted on the entrances to the building. For personal safety reasons no one should be in the building during hours that the building is not open. Students should be aware of the their surroundings while they are in the building. If anyone observes suspicious behavior they should immediately contact UW-La Crosse Campus Police at 608-789-9999.

Personal Items
Students are responsible for all of their own personal items including backpacks, books, instruments, cell phones, computers, etc. Never leave any personal items unattended for any period of time, ever! If you suspect theft of a personal item you should contact the UW-La Crosse Police at 608-789-9999. If you have lost an item and do not suspect theft you should contact Sharon Shugrue in CFA 145 where the building lost and found is located.
