Dear friends, alumni and distinguished guests:

From our storied beginnings in 1909, when the La Crosse Normal School was founded, to our place of prominence today in 2014 the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse has grown into one of the best public universities in the country. Thus we can be proud of many things — in particular, today’s graduating class.

Earlier this year, U.S. News & World Report ranked UW-L among the top five public universities in the Midwest who offer bachelor’s and master’s degrees, the highest ranking of any UW institution in this category. And we also now are ranked No. 43 in Kiplinger Magazine’s list of the Top 100 Values in American Public Higher Education, further recognition of our strong national leadership in advanced education.

A commitment to excellence exists throughout the UW-L campus, and the accomplishments listed on page five showcase some of our most notable achievements. But the greatest testament to our tradition of academic excellence is the group of outstanding students who make up today’s graduating class. Each one of them is a point of pride, and we’re so very grateful for that.

So on behalf of the staff and faculty here at UW-L it’s my pleasure to thank you for joining us today to celebrate the crowning achievement of the university experience. The future holds great promise for our graduates, and I hope you are as proud of them as we are!

Best wishes,

Joe Gow

Commencement ushers are members of the Vanguard organization.

Note: Sound-enhancement earphones are available for hearing-impaired guests. Ask an usher if you would like to use the earphones. Please return them to an usher after the ceremony.

A reception for graduates and their family and friends will be held immediately following the ceremonies. Please proceed to South Hall to meet your graduate. A map of the La Crosse Center can be found on page 32.
Academic Dress

The academic apparel worn by faculty and staff in the processional has its origins in the universities of the Middle Ages. Because the universities grew out of church schools, both faculty and students were regarded as part of the clergy, and wore clerical clothing based on monastic dress.

The head covering developed from the skull cap worn to protect tonsured heads in cold weather. In the universities, the skull cap acquired a point at the top which gradually evolved into a tassel. In Europe, the bonnet with a tassel is still worn, but has been replaced in America by the mortar board cap or tam with a tassel.

The style of the gown may have been borrowed from the Benedictine monk’s habit. In the Middle Ages, those with bachelor’s and master’s degrees could be distinguished by the simplicity or elaborateness of their gowns. The master’s gowns were often furred, a decoration surviving as the three velvet bars now used on the sleeves of the doctoral gown.

The hood was originally worn over the head in bad weather, and otherwise dropped onto the shoulders. First worn by faculty and students, the hood is now added to the apparel of those with master’s and doctoral degrees. The color of the velvet trim on the hood indicates the scholarly field, for example, dark blue (philosophy), golden yellow (science), light blue (education), pink (music), apricot (nursing), drab (business), and white (arts). The colors of the satin lining are those approved and authorized by the college or university from which the degree was earned.

Medallion Symbolizes Authority

Wearing a medallion or seal of office has been a symbol of authority since the Middle Ages. The seal marked official documents then; heads of institutions wore the seal around the neck to keep it in their possession. The chancellor’s medallion features a design and materials that reflect UW-La Crosse. The mokume-gane or “wood grain metal” used is a specialty of the campus jewelry studio.

Mace Shows Quest for Truth

Once a weapon in medieval combat, the mace was adopted by universities as a symbol of the power of the quest for truth. The mace is carried in the commencement ceremony by a distinguished senior faculty member. William R. Fiorini, a UW-L art professor, designed and made the medallion and mace, which were used for the first time at the inauguration of Chancellor Judith L. Kuipers in September 1992.

The mace and medallion were given to the University by Mary Hebberd and Ruth Nixon-Davy, professors emeriti. Silver plaques on the medallion box and mace stand acknowledge these gifts.

Symbols of Academic Achievement

Many undergraduate students are wearing items that reflect high academic achievement. Commencement Honors are designated by silver cords, and are worn by students who have at least a 3.50 cumulative grade point average. Those wearing gold cords have earned Commencement Highest Honors with at least a 3.75 average. Members of the Golden Key International Honour Society are wearing a medallion on a blue and gold neck ribbon. The organization is open to the top 15 percent of graduating seniors in various fields of study. Discipline-specific honor organizations are represented by a variety of other cords.

International Flags and Sashes

The international flags displayed on the commencement platform represent the home countries of international students attending the University. Sashes are worn by graduates who studied abroad. Each sash represents the country in which the student studied.

College Banners

The banners used in the processional represent the colleges of the university and the colors indicate the scholarly fields within the colleges. The banners were designed by Arla Wojahn, Educational Technology Center, class of ‘04 and were produced by Chris Jackson, Mt. Borah, class of ‘91. They were first used at the inauguration of Chancellor Joe Gow in October 2007.
Even more reasons to be a proud UW-La Crosse graduate ...

• Kiplinger’s Personal Finance has listed UW-L No. 4 among its 25 Best College Values Under $30,000 a Year. It’s the only Wisconsin campus to make the national rank. UW-L is also among Kiplinger’s top 100 colleges and universities in the country for delivering academic quality and affordability.

• UW-L’s “It Make$ Cents!” financial literacy program received the 2013 Wisconsin Financial Literacy Award from the Department of Financial Institutions.

• The UW-L men’s track & field team captured its 17th National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division III indoor championship in March – an NCAA III record. The indoor and outdoor track and field teams also won the 2013 NCAA III championships.

• UW-L has been awarded bids to host the 2017 NCAA III Wrestling Championships and the 2018 NCAA III Women’s and Men’s Outdoor Track & Field Championships.

• UW-L is the No. 3 best public regional university in the Midwest and the top comprehensive campus in the UW System, according to U.S. News & World Report’s 2014 America’s Best Colleges. UW-L is one of only 39 institutions nationally recognized for undergraduate research and creative projects.

• UW-L History Professor Victor Macías-González received the 2013 Wisconsin Professor of the Year Award from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

• Biology Professor Roger Haro received the 2014 UW System Board of Regents Diversity Award.

• The Biology Department received the 2013 UW System Board of Regents Teaching Excellence Award.

• UW-L received the 2013 Higher Education Excellence in Diversity award from INSIGHT Into Diversity magazine.

• UW-L was among the 80 “top producing” institutions producing the highest number of Fulbright scholars in 2012-13.

• The College of Business Administration earned the Council for Higher Education Accreditation Award for Outstanding Institutional Practice in Student Learning Outcomes in January 2013. It’s the first Wisconsin college and only the second business school nationally honored. The college is listed among 12 of the top colleges nationally for innovative assessment.

• UW-L ranks No. 30 nationally for students studying abroad. UW-L has the fourth largest international student population among Wisconsin colleges.

• UW-L has been recognized as an “Outstanding Partner in Education” by the La Crosse School District.

• UW-L student-athletes posted the highest combined GPA (3.187) in the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, the 13th consecutive year they received the honor.

• The UW System College Readiness Math MOOC — a Massive Open Online Course developed by UW-L faculty and staff – won the 2013 Desire2Excel award, a national honor for collaboration.

• U.S. Army 1st Lt. and former football player Jason Church received the 2014 National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Inspiration Award.

• UW-L hosted the 2013 National Conference on Undergraduate Research, attracting around 3,500 faculty and students from 300+ schools.

• The Physics Department was one of only four nationally to receive the American Physical Society’s 2013 Improving Undergraduate Physics Education Award.

• The College of Business Administration was reaccredited by AACSB International — The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business in 2013. Only five percent of business programs worldwide meet the rigorous standards.

Extraordinary Degree Recipient | Sean Schoonmaker | June 2, 1992 – August 24, 2012

Sean loved attending UW-L and living in La Crosse. The CRU ministry and the friendships he developed during his time here had a profound and life changing impact on him.

Sean was once quoted as saying, “It’s not how much time you have, it’s what you do with your time that defines you.” He was full of laughter and fun wherever he went. People were important to Sean, and so, he invested his life in people and wanted the best for them.

Thank you to everyone who invested in Sean and made his life at UW-L so satisfying.

– The Schoonmaker Family
The Murphy Awards for Academic Excellence recognize the university’s top two graduating scholars, as chosen by the Scholarship and Awards Committee. A grant from the Murphy Foundation created the awards in 1980. Marjorie P. Murphy, foundation president, cited a desire to recognize outstanding and exceptional scholastic ability. Recipients receive $1,500 and $1,000, respectively.

Elizabeth Camenga graduates with a Bachelor of Science in physics with a biomedical concentration and minors in mathematics and music. Camenga was a leader in InterVarsity Christian Fellowship, a physics tutor and teaching assistant, a Relay for Life team captain, and held memberships in Sigma Pi Sigma physics honor society, Golden Key Honor Society and Wind Ensemble. She participated in research at the University of Maryland and Mayo Graduate School, working on auditory cortex and spinal cord injury research, respectively. For four years Camenga worked in the Strzelczyk Clinical Biomechanics Laboratory researching ACL tension. Last year she presented a poster on filtering protocols at the National Conference on Undergraduate Research. Following graduation and a summer mission trip to Jamaica, Camenga plans to attend medical school. She is the daughter of Eric and Deirdre Camenga, Milton, Wis.

Stefanie Sippl graduates with a Bachelor of Science in biochemistry and biology with a concentration in biomedical science and minors in Spanish and nutrition. She was a member of the UW-L swim and dive team for two seasons, Pre-Medicine Club, and Chemistry and Biochemistry Club where she was community outreach coordinator and helped organize a mobile chemistry magic show for elementary students. Sippl volunteered at Gundersen Health System and the UW-L Greenhouse, and worked as a chemistry prep student and at the Onalaska YMCA. For two and a half years, she was a researcher for a UW-L funded research grant in “Dynamic Versatility: How understanding hydroxamic acid behavior can lead to novel therapeutic treatments in a variety of pharmacological settings.” During summer 2013, Sippl participated in the Summer Research Internship Program at the University of Virginia Medical School. Following graduation, she will apply to medical school. Sippl’s professional goal is to practice medicine in an underserved area of the Midwest and become actively involved in medical research. She is the daughter of Eric and Deirdre Camenga, Milton, Wis.

The Jake and Janet Hoeschler Award for Excellence recognizes a College of Business Administration graduate for academic accomplishment and qualities of leadership demonstrated in campus and community activities. Janet Hoeschler, a 1940 graduate, established the award in 1992 to signify a partnership of business and the university. The award extends the Hoeschlers’ belief in excellence, education, philanthropy and the La Crosse community. Recipients receive $1,500.

The Maurice O. Graff Distinguished Alumnus Award recognizes alumni who have achieved honor and distinction with recognition and reputations that extend well beyond the immediate environments in which they live and work. "I believe that merely 'doing one's job,' even though doing it in an outstanding manner, should not be enough to merit one of the awards," said Maurice O. Graff, vice chancellor emeritus in establishing the award. "The recipients should be widely known and recognized for their accomplishments outside their immediate work-service area." Graff was a professor and administrator from 1941-72.

Memorial scholarships to honor students
In the last 18 months, the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse has experienced the unfortunate loss of several students. The family and friends of two of those students, Kimberly Graham and Neala Frye, have created scholarship funds to honor their legacies at UW-L.

Kimberly D. Graham Extraordinary Memorial Scholarship
The Kimberly D. Graham Extraordinary Scholarship was established in memory of Kimberly who lost her life to a rare childhood cancer. She fought a courageous battle and lived life to the fullest. Kimberly studied radiation therapy while at UW-L and developed many beautiful friendships. This fund will support students who have also struggled with cancer or are pursuing a major in radiation therapy.

Neala P. Frye Memorial Scholarship
Neala P. Frye died during her junior year at UW-L. Her friends, classmates and family established this scholarship fund in her memory. Neala was outgoing, compassionate and loving. She was very active on campus and in the community. Neala’s scholarship supports an academically talented marketing major in their junior or senior year.

Those interested in contributing to the scholarships in memory of these wonderful students should contact the UW-L Foundation at 608.785.8489 or you may give online at http://foundation.uwlax.edu.
