Gender Inclusive Housing (GIH) is available in Reuter Hall and provides an inclusive living option that enables students to be able to self-select their roommates based on compatibility without restricting for gender identity, gender expression, or biological sex. Students interested in Reuter Hall and GIH must agree to the following terms and conditions as part of this living arrangement. Each student/roommate must sign and agree to the following:

1. I request to live in a gender inclusive apartment in Reuter Hall with those students listed on this agreement.

2. If a roommate in a gender inclusive apartment withdraws from the university, moves to another space on campus or cancels their housing contract I understand it is the responsibility of those remaining in the apartment to find another student to fill the space and agree to the terms and conditions of gender inclusive housing. The time frame allocated by the Hall Director to find a new roommate will vary depending on the time of year.

3. Should a new roommate be found, all roommates will be required to complete a new Apartment Agreement for Gender Inclusive Housing prior to the new roommate moving in.

4. If the remaining roommates cannot identify a new student willing to live in their gender inclusive apartment, the Office of Residence Life will reassign housing assignments to create a single-gendered apartment. This will be done by reassigning the roommate with the least represented biological sex within the apartment.

5. I will communicate with my roommates any plans to move from the gender inclusive apartment and I will immediately notify my Hall Director to allow for open communication about the future status of the gender inclusive apartment.

6. I understand that room changes and roommate selection are subject to approval by the Office of Residence Life.

I understand that by signing below, I agree to the above terms and conditions of gender inclusive housing.
